Custom Character homebrews

- Forgotten Noble

Forgotten Noble

The forgotten noble background is a background commonly found in various forms of media but not found in dungeons and dragons. This background describes a character who has been brought up in a peasant way, often in the wild, whether it be by uncle, aunt, grandparents, etc, but not their parents, and the character is royalty. In this case you can choose whether the caregivers know and are hiding it, or they are as clueless as the main character. Here are the stats for this background.

Forgotten Noble

skill proficiencies: investigation, survival tool proficiencies: playing cards, one kind of artisans tools.

Languages: one of your choice

Feature: Survival experience

You are well versed in the ways of the forest and mountains, and you can handle yourself properly in those situations. This experience becomes also incredibly useful once your people know they have a competent king.